

Q2) I am interested in web and mobile app development. I feel that being a TenSCI coordinator will motivate me to learn more and improve my technical, communication, and management skills.

By offering technical and web dev support to NGOs, we build new relations with them. We will also be able to access their products and services. However, this wouldn't be possible in the case of insti web ops teams.